RENMIN UNIVERSITY OF CHINA

靳皓

Professor JIN Nuo
Chairwoman of the University Council

Renmin University of China is the first comprehensive research university established by the People's Republic of China. Its predecessor was Shanbei Public School, founded in 1937. Chinese heads of state MAO Zedong, DENG Xiaoping, JIANG Zemin, HU Jintao and XI Jinping have all paid close attention to RUC's development. Each has visited RUC's campus and delivered speeches or written inscriptions for the university.

Since Renmin University was established, more than 250,000 outstanding RUC alumni have made important contributions in various sectors, including government, academia, finance, communication and education.

With fourteen first-tier disciplines selected into the national list for world-class discipline construction, Renmin University of China is well placed to become an influential leader in the Chinese humanities and social sciences. We welcome your cooperation in meeting the challenges of an ever-changing world and invite you to join us in building a world-class university and promoting excellence in higher education.

刘伟

Professor LIU Wei
President

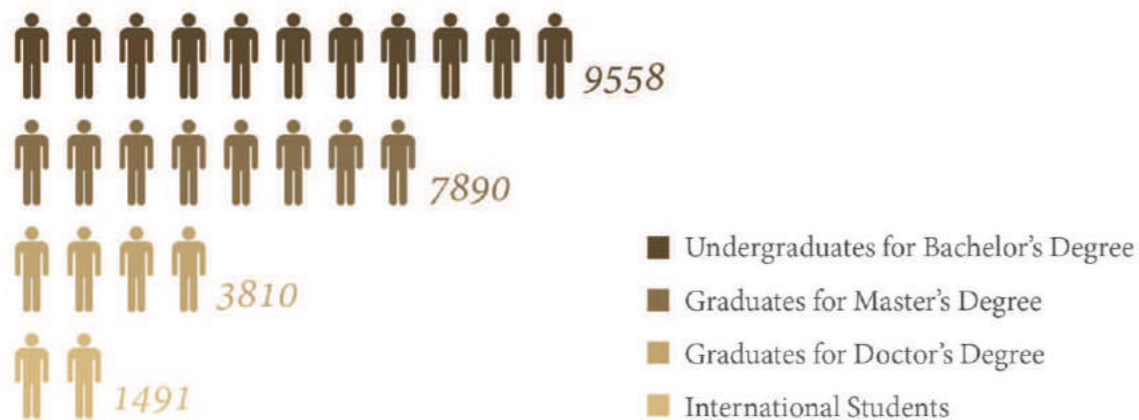

Renmin University of China is a comprehensive research-oriented university focusing on humanities and social sciences. It also offers a range of courses in the natural sciences, information technology and environmental sciences. The university's overriding tasks have consistently been the pursuit of truth and progress, cultural transmission and educating the country's future elites. RUC is an important base for training high-caliber professionals in the social sciences and humanities and houses a number of influential research centers and think tanks.

The vision of RUC is reflected in our logo, which is composed of three “人” (ren), a Chinese character that can be translated into person, human or humanity. The logo stands for “people's university,” “the spirit of humanism” and “a focus on the humanities and social sciences.” RUC's vision is to become a world-class university that equips future leaders, produces cutting-edge research and promotes global academic exchange. With the support of a dedicated leadership, its students, faculty and staff, RUC continues to grow in influence as one of the most important trend-setters in Chinese higher education today.

National Think Tanks

National Academy of Development and Strategy

As one of China's first batch of pilot units for national high-end think tank construction, RUC National Academy of Development and Strategy (NADS) is among the Top 100 think tanks globally. With major focuses on economy, politics and society, NADS provides high-quality and innovative intellectual support for the scientific and democratic policy-making of the Chinese government. Adhering to the goal of "national strategy, global vision, decision-making consultation, public opinion guidance", NADS strives to become a new-type Chinese think tank with international influence.

Chongyang Institute for Financial Studies

Chongyang Institute for Financial Studies at RUC (RDCY) is a new-type think tank with Chinese characteristics. Strongly grounded in reality, RDCY is dedicated to financial studies and academic research in a bid to advise the government and serve the public. Since its establishment, RDCY has scored many bests among think tanks in China, winning high recognition at home and abroad in the studies of global governance, major power relations, and macroeconomic policies. RDCY is one of the 7 Chinese think tanks to enter the Top 150 Global Think Tanks in the world-renowned "Global Go To Think Tank Index Report" issued by the University of Pennsylvania.

INTERNATIONAL CONNECTIONS

RUC has established university-level partnerships with 259 universities from 58 countries and regions all over the world. RUC has also hosted or organized a series of high-level international conferences on its campus, and conducted numerous international research projects.

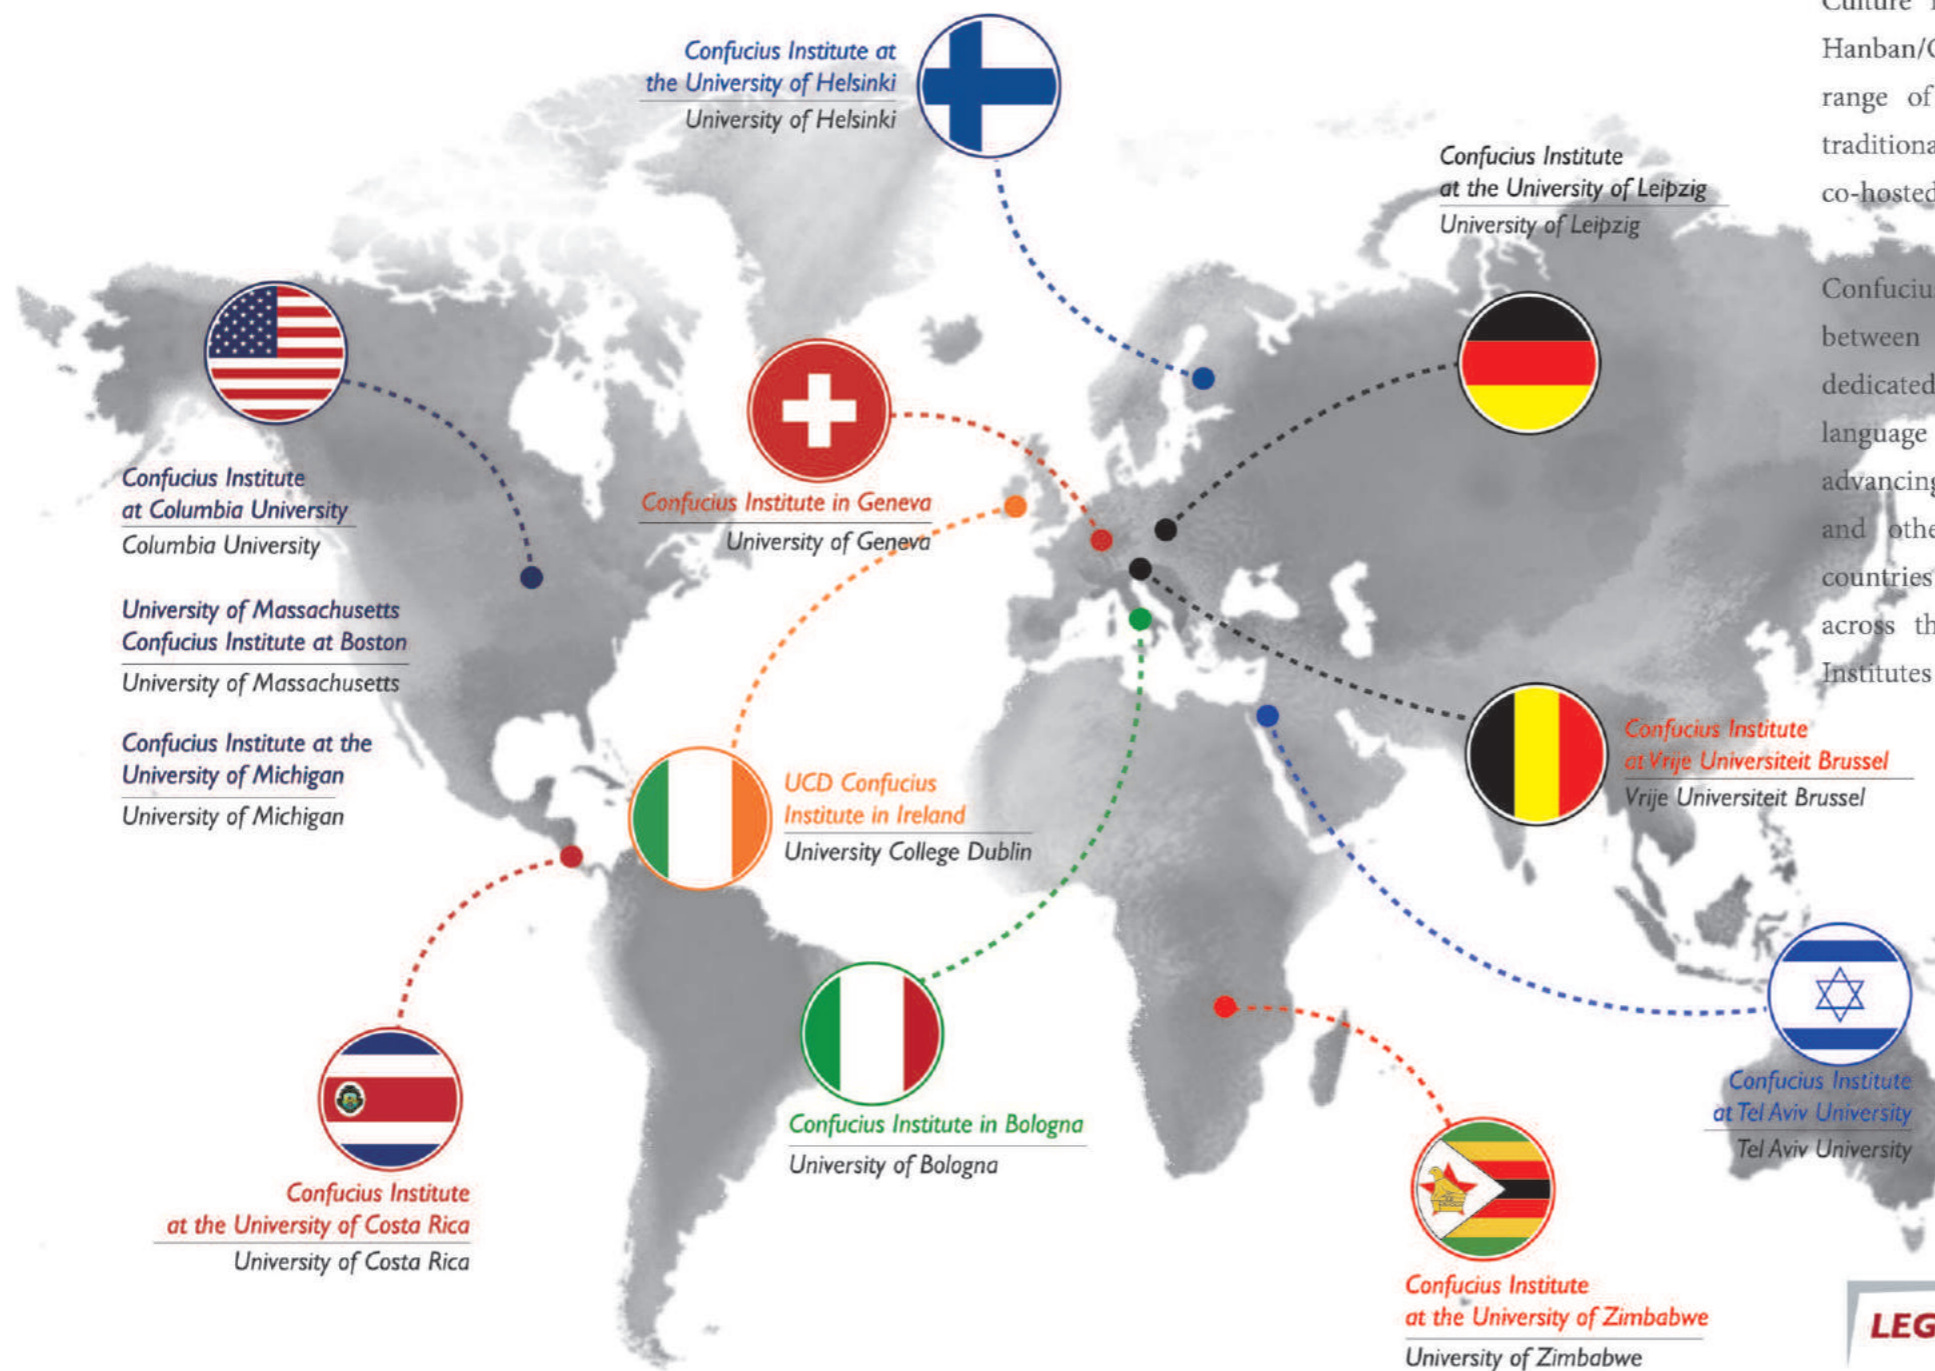

More than 200 world-renowned scholars and famous guests have been granted the titles of honorary doctor, honorary professor or adjunct professor.

In 2015, RUC hosted 1,630 international students from 93 countries. Among them, 78% are pursuing a degree, 13% are visiting students and 9% are learning Mandarin Chinese.

Since 2009, RUC has offered a range of outstanding international programs, including the annual International Summer School and a variety of MA programs fully taught and administered in English.

CHINESE LANGUAGE PROMOTION & CONFUCIUS INSTITUTE

RUC's Institute for the Promotion of Chinese Language and Culture is one of the earliest research centers set up by Hanban/Confucius Institute Headquarters. It conducts a wide range of research projects on Chinese contemporary and traditional culture. As of 2007, RUC and Hanban have regularly co-hosted the World Conference on Sinology.

Confucius Institute is a joint non-profit educational agency between China and countries around the world, which is dedicated to meeting the increasing demand for Chinese language study evident around the world today. It aims at advancing educational and cultural exchanges between China and other countries, strengthening friendship with other countries and promoting the development of diverse cultures across the world. RUC has co-established twelve Confucius Institutes with our overseas partner universities.
